HARDY ENGLISH CHRYSANTHEMUMS

Since we started listing these lovely English Chrysanthemums about 10 years ago the popularity of the English Chrysanthemum has grown by leaps and bounds. Now we employ several people to get the plants grown and to fill your orders. Judging from the many orders we receive from our customers, we know they are as enthusiastic about them as we are.

In order to give you the opportunity to order more varieties, we are putting all varieties into the 35c and 50c lists with a big saving to you where you order a dozen or two dozen varieties. We do wish to say that we have appreciated all the letters we have received from our customers telling us how well pleased you have been with our plants and the beautiful flowers they gave you. We wish space permitted us to print some of your nice letters in our catalogue.

Order early so as to be sure you will get all the varieties that you want as we number your orders as they come in and fill them in the order that we receive them. We begin shipping Chrysanthemum orders about April 20.

Hemerocallis (Day Lilies)

No plant can be grown as easy as Day Lilies. It doesn't seem to matter if they are planted in sun or shade, in a damp place or a dry place.
